US-31 in Holland To Be Retained as Business Route

Resurfacing Assured By Highway Department In Letter to Council

The state will retain the present US-31 through Holland city as a business route, City Clerk Clarence Grevengeod informed City Council Wednesday night. A letter from the Michigan State Highway Department stated that the by-pass would be marked US-31 and that the present route through the city would be designated as a business route. Assurance also was given that resurfacing the business route will be taken care of by the state highway department.

On suggestion of Councilman John Van Eerden, the possibility of establishing some east-west through streets for Holland city was referred to the City Planning Commission for study and report back to Council. It is generally felt that the city has plenty of good north-south routes, but few if any east-west routes.

To conform with certain advertising regulations, Council postponed the date for receiving bids on the water supply system revenue bonds from Oct. 12 to Oct. 20. The original resolution was adopted by Council Aug. 23.

Revision of cemetery prices introduced at the Council meeting Sept. 15 was brought up again and action will be taken at the next meeting Oct. 20.

Council also reviewed special assessment rolls for the 1954 paving program listing eight paving projects totaling $74,265.44, exclusive of city obligation.

Council approved an application from Essenburg Building and Lumber Co. for a license to construct sidewalks and an application from Gail Neon Sign Co. of Grand Rapids for a license to erect signs.

On recommendation of the city engineer, Council approved the 1954-55 Municipal Maintenance contract between the Michigan State Highway department and the city of Holland.

Clerk Grevengeod reported that the Wagoner property at 53 West 12th St. purchased by the city would soon be available for occupancy and suggested that Council set the amount desired for the rental of the property. The matter was referred to the acting city manager with power to act.

The clerk also presented the annual audit report prepared by Maihofer, Moore and De Long, auditors.

A report from City Treasurer Alden J. Stoner on summer tax collections at of Sept. 10 revealed a total of 98.27 percent collected and 1.73 per cent delinquent.

Osborn was jailed by state police officers following an accident at 6:15 p.m. Saturday on Mercury Dr. in Grand Haven township.

Officers report Osborn struck the rear of a car driven by Roger J. Baldus, 21, Nunica, traveling south-east. The Baldus car was smashed off the road into an embankment, causing about $200 damage to the new 1954 car and about $100 damage to the 1950 Osborn car.

Baldus received a head laceration and his wife, Norma, 19, was taken to Municipal Hospital for treatment of scalp lacerations and bruises.

Osborn did not stop after the crash and was apprehended about four miles from the scene by deputies of the sheriff's department. Osborn was forced to stop because a wrecked fender was rubbing against the car wheel.

Water Seeps Into Bakery Company And Ruins Flour

Several Telephones Cut Off; Sewers Unable to Keep Up

Torrential rains accompanied by electrical storms pounded Holland area early Sunday evening, leaving in its wake floods, fires, disrupted utilities, flooded basements and a lot of stalled automobiles.

Weather Observer Charles A. Steketee said 3.66 inches of rain fell since 5 p.m. Sunday. During the previous 24 hours, a total of .89 inches fell for a total of 4.55 inches for the weekend.

Sunday night's storm was of cloudburst intensity, lashing the area at close intervals accompanied by fierce lightning and loud claps of thunder. Small streams quickly overflowed, storm sewers were unable to carry the huge quantities of water, small bridges were washed out, trees were uprooted, and gas, light and telephone utilities were disrupted.

A storm sewer on West 17th St. was unable to cope with flood waters which rose to new heights and flooded the basement of Dutch Boy Baking Co. to a depth of 6 1/2 feet, despoiling 3,000 to 4,000 sacks of flour and a large inventory of paper products. Manager Mel Groteler said three pumps at the plant were unable to keep up with the flow and for a time he feared some of the employees might be trapped in the rising water. It took just a half hour before the basement was filled to the level of the road. Damage was estimated at $25,000.

Crews were busy Monday coping with one of the messiest messes ever caused when flood water meets flour. Groteler said the night's baking met all needs Monday and he hoped the plant would be back in operation in the afternoon. New flour supplies came from Grand Rapids.

Long strings of cars were trapped in the flood waters in that area. Two enterprising youths had great fun going around in a canoe. Water was up to headlights of the cars in most cases.

Pressure of flood waters forced up a new tube bridge on Fairbanks Ave. between 12th and 13th Sts. snapping a gas line which cut off service to Zeeland. The Holland Heights section and in the more immediate vicinity. The bridge had just been completed a few weeks ago in an improvement program which raised the road in that area. Gas service to most points was restored today.

About 500 telephones in Holland area were out of order, mostly through cable trouble. Telephone Manager A. G. Sall said the trouble was scattered with the heaviest concentration north of the city. North end industry, fortunately, was not affected. Service was restored to most customers throughout the day and by late afternoon about 200 were without service. In Zeeland, about 150 telephones were out for the same reasons. A small cable on South Maple St. was broken when a large limb crashed. Most service was expected to be restored by early evening.

A maple tree fell over the parked car of Marjorie Hoeve which was in front of her home at 106 West Main St. in Zeeland. The car was standing in about a foot of flooded water, but fortunately, the tree did little harm, resulting in a few dents to the top and scratches.

Reports of flooded basements, many of them in serious condition, came as flood waters mounted throughout the evening. Several basements in the 13th St. area near Pine Ave. were flooded, endangering furnaces, deep freezers and other valuable equipment people customarily keep in basements these days.

A small tornado with winds of high velocity hit Drenthe about 6:45 p.m. Sunday, leveling some buildings on four farms a half mile east of Drenthe. Windows also were blown out in several homes. Two-thirds of the roof was torn from the barn on the Bernard Schreur farm. Part of the barn roof at the John Schra home was torn off. Other barn damage was reported at the Elmer Boss and Ben Schreur farms. The "tornado" was accompanied by hail the size of half dollars for about three minutes during the height of the storm.

Traffic moved slowly and considerably highway traffic stopped as the rains lashed down. It was estimated that 200 cars had stopped along M-21 between Hudsonville and Holland Sunday night. Some hail fell at the time too. The traffic signal was out at Hudsonville, and lights failed there too.

Man Bound Over

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Lawrence Atwood, 32, Conklin, was bound over to Circuit Court on examination Wednesday in Municipal Court on a charge of indecent exposure. He was released on his own recognizance. He previously had pleaded guilty July 28 but his case was remanded back to Municipal Court for examination. The alleged offense occurred last March 24 in Conklin.

Firemen Soaked While Answering Calls in Storm

Livestock, Equipment Destroyed in Barn; \n Several Houses Struck

Several fires resulted from Sunday night's electrical storm, and firemen from departments in the area were talking Mon. about being soaked to the bone, since most fires occurred during the height of the downpour.

A large barn on the Henry Schrotenboer farm a half mile north of the East Saugatuck store was leveled after being struck by lightning just before 7 p.m. Sunday. The Graafschap fire department and the Overisel department were instrumental in saving the other buildings.

Lost in the blaze were a quantity of hay, a new tractor, a few pieces of other machinery, two head of cattle and 15 pigs. Graafschap Fire Chief Dave Schripsema said no estimate of loss was available today.

Park township fire department No. 2 answered two alarms Sunday night, the first at 6:30 p.m. at the Robert Boes home on Washington St. and the second at 8:15 p.m. at the Gerald Bazaan home on Greenley St. near 160th Ave. Lightning had struck the electric stove and hot water heater at the Boes home. There was little other damage.

The Bazaan home fire had gained considerable headway by the time the family arrived home at 8:15 p.m. The house had been hit by lightning. The hit seemed to be near the oil furnace in the basement and from there burned a hole through the living room floor, running up a second floor partition to burn a hole through the roof in one spot. The first floor was damaged extensively and the second floor mostly smoke and heat damage. Fire Chief Herman Windemuller said damage would run into the thousands.

Firemen remained on the scene about 2 1/2 hours while it rained hard most of the time. The Bazaan family moved into quarters on their farm previously occupied by berry pickers.

Park township department No. 1 and Holland firemen responded to an alarm at Macatawa Park where the Earl Carroll cottage which lies between the hotel and Lake Michigan had caught fire after wires had been struck by lightning. Fire started near the meter and burned through a partition to the roof, inflicting most damage to the northwest corner of the cottage. Township Fire Chief Jud Bolhuis had seven men out. Holland firemen also were called since the Macatawa Park Association has an agreement with the local department. Loss was estimated at $2,000 to $3,000. The cottage was repaired this fall.

Lightning struck a tree at the Jud Bolhuis home at 1107 South Shore Dr. causing it to fall across the roof of the porch.

Mrs. Okko Bosma Succumbs at 83

Mrs. Christina Bosma, 83, widow of Okko Bosma, died at 9:45 a.m. Monday in the home of Mrs. Anna Dykgraaf, 56 West Main St., Zeeland where she had been staying since June. She had lived in Holland for many years at 210 East 10th St. She was born Jan. 6, 1871, in Graafschap, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Turling.

She was a member of Sixth Reformed Church and the Ladies Aid Society.

Surviving are seven daughters, Mrs. Herman Shoemaker of North Holland, Mrs. Peter Swagman of Grand Rapids, Mrs. William Oonk of Holland, Mrs. Peter Lamar of Holland, Mrs. Peter Ver Hey of Pontiac, Mrs. Peter Evink of Zeeland and Mrs. Henry J. Van Dyke of Grand Rapids; two sons, Benjamin of Holland and Fred of Zeeland; 27 grandchildren and 9 great grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Mary Christpell of Muskegon.

Several Power Lines Down In Zeeland After Storm

Zeeland light and power plant officials reported several power lines down throughout the city after the heavy rainstorm Sunday night. Limbs were across power lines in several sections and many residents reported water in basements, caused from sewers backing up.

The power setup was to have been repaired temporarily by noon Monday, but officials pointed out it will take three to four days to get all lines back to normal.

Gas was turned off from the 16th St. bridge to New Groningen after water forced out a water main leaving 150 homes without gas. The Michigan Gas & Electric Co. officials reported that gas was turned on again at 9:45 a.m. Monday. Servicemen are checking each house in the affected area.

Consumers Power reported several transformers out. At least another day's work remains to get everything back to normal, company officials said.

CONSTRUCTION ON THE NEW BRIDGE over Black River, east of Holland on the old Zeeland road, was stopped Monday as the river spread over its banks about 15 feet after Sunday's 4-inch rainfall. Two cranes were caught in the flood as well as a boiler and several other pieces of equipment. It will be about four days until the equipment can be cleaned and work can begin again, contractor Art Schrotenboer said. (Sentinel photo)

PAVEMENT CAVES IN—A friendly gesture on the part of Louis Biolette, 420 West 21st St., for his next door neighbor, Joe Forsten, nearly resulted in extensive damage to his car. Biolette had parked his car in front of Forsten's partially caved in driveway to prevent Forsten from accidentally driving in. A short time later the driveway and pavement, badly undermined by the heavy rains Sunday night, gave way entirely, dropping the car into the deep hole. Two large wreckers, one at each end of the car, were used to lift the car out. (Sentinel photo)

THERE WAS NO TIME TO CHANGE into work clothes for these Zeelanders when flood waters threatened to pour into the basement of Second Reformed Church Sunday night. A clogged drain on Main St. sent waters into the city park and around Second Church, putting about an inch of water in the basement. The hose was used to divert the mounting waters from the locality, and churchmen grabbed brooms and shovels to keep the rising waters from the basement windows. Shown left to right are Alfred Berghorst, Lloyd Plewes, John Smallegan, Tom Bos and Arnold Bos. (Prince photo, Zeeland)

Group Screening Applicants for City Manager

Council Committee Requests Interviews From Four or Five

Many applicants have been received for the position of city manager for Holland and the committee has screened them down to four or five from whom personal interviews have been requested. Councilman Rein Visscher told City Council Wednesday night.

Visscher is chairman of a special committee appointed to process applicants for city manager. Other members are Raymond Holwerda and John Beltman. The appointee will succeed H. C. McClintock who left Holland Oct. 1 for a new position as city manager in Webster Groves, Mo., after 3 1/2 years as manager here.

Council also approved Visscher's motion designating City Engineer Jacob Zuidema as acting city manager, with full assistance of City Clerk Clarence Grevengeod to carry out the duties.

Council approved an expenditure of up to $1,000 for costumes, properties, etc., for staging a series of tableaux in connection with the two-day dedication ceremonies for Holland's new Civic Center Nov. 16 and 17. It was pointed out that much of the scenery and costumes would be retained as permanent props for Civic Center.

A letter signed by athletic directors of Hope College, Holland public schools and Christian schools requesting more time for basketball practice in Civic Center was referred to the Civic Center policy committee. The letter pointed out the desirability of additional practice in the new building and requested permission for such extra workouts provided there were no other meetings scheduled.

A letter addressed to Mayor Harry Harrington from Mrs. Katherine Van Duren, executive secretary of the Ottawa County Red Cross chapter, was read by Clerk Grevengeod. In it, Mrs. Van Duren expressed the need for a swimming pool for Holland and referred to possibilities of an outdoor pool south of the new Civic Center. She said the Red Cross would be happy to provide trained instructors. She said local swimming classes involving hundreds of pupils had to be transported to Port Sheldon for the last few years.

Later in the meeting under motions and resolutions, Mayor Harrington was authorized to appoint a committee of Council members and citizenry to make a survey for such a swimming pool.

Clerk Grevengeod presented a communication from Recreation Director Joe Moran submitted to council the following information: equipment and use of Civic Center Recreation rooms requests regarding other recreational usage of Civic Center, request for the release of the amount placed in the contingent fund for lighting five tennis courts, information regarding school participation in the recreational program, and a request for a cooperative action to improve play facilities. The first two items were referred to the Civic Center policy committee and the others were filed for study.

The city clerk reported on results of an election by city employees who are members of the retirement system to select an employee representative for the annual meeting. Erma Korterling, hospital employee, received the highest number of votes and Lester Overway of the Board of Public Works was second high. Council certified Miss Korterling as employee delegate with Overway as alternate, and City Auditor John Fonger as officer delegate with City Clerk Grevengeod as alternate.

Council granted permission to the Junior Chamber of Commerce to use Riverview Park Saturday night, Oct. 30, for a Halloween party for children. The Jaycees also were granted permission to stage a costume parade, and to operate a plank in front of Hansen's Drug store to raise funds for the party Oct. 15 and 16.

A letter from Mrs. Floyd Koopman, a member of the Holland Kennel club, addressed to the Board of Supervisors and calling attention to conditions at the local dog pound was referred to a committee to be appointed by Mayor Harrington. Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff will be a member of the committee.

Mayor Harrington presided at the meeting which lasted an hour and 10 minutes. Councilman Robert Visscher gave the invocation.

Grandstanding...

Three buses carrying the Holland High School band and two buses of fans accompanied the Holland High team to Muskegon Heights Friday night.

Arthur C. Hills, director of the Holland High band, directed the combined Holland and Muskegon Heights bands in the national anthem prior to the football game Friday night. At halftime the Holland High band performed the sequences presented in Chicago last summer. The Muskegon Heights bands did a take-off on television star, Liberace. Both performances were well-received by the crowd.

Included in the Muskegon Heights cheering section were two students dressed as tigers, with one a tiger cub.

In the hurry and excitement of going to the game, two members of the Holland High band forgot to bring their instruments. They marched anyway, empty handed.

Fans were dressed for a shower but only a few drops fell during the third quarter. The Holland-Muskegon Heights second team game was played in a steady downpour.

Muskegon Heights was the second straight team not to punt against Holland. Grand Rapids Union did not punt last week.

Little Dutch Lose To Heights, 24-0

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS (Special) — Scoring twice in the first half and twice in the second half gave the Muskegon Heights Little Tigers a 24-0 win over the Holland High reserves here Friday afternoon.

Played in the rain, the Heights ground game showing speed managed to pick up most of their yardage around the ends. The weather definitely hampered Holland's passing game.

The Holland seconds completed a 35 yard pass play to open the contest, but the rain prevented further passing.

"Several times when our offense started rolling penalties hurt us," Coach Bill Hinga said.

The game was costly for the Dutch. Allen Hill, first string halfback, received a broken collar bone and possible concussion and will be lost for some time. He was taken to Mercy Hospital.

Wes Kuyers and Hill were offensive standouts for Holland with Dale Stricker, transfer student from Florida, and Gord De Vries center, looked good on defense.

Coopersville Tops Zeeland, 26-13

ZEELAND (Special) — Zeeland lost its first Ken-New-Wa league start of the season Friday night here, dropping a 26-13 decision to Coopersville. The Broncos scored twice in the first period and twice in the fourth period. Zeeland scores were made in the second and third quarter.

The winners took the opening kickoff and marched 65 yards to tally. Dave Stevens, quarterback, carried the final 17 yards.

Coopersville recovered a Zeeland fumble on the Chix 30 shortly after the kickoff. Stevens directed the offense, scoring from 12 yards out.

Jack Faber and Art Klampf combined to form the Zeeland scoring punch. With one-half minute remaining in the first half Faber hit Klampf on a 12 yard pass for a touchdown. The play had been set up by a 49 yard run by Klampf through the Coopersville middle.

In the final quarter, the Broncos got the ball on the Chix 22 where Stevens scored his third touchdown, this time moving up the middle.

The first play after the kickoff Taylor intercepted a Faber pass deep in Chix territory. Bob Aldrich carried over from the ten.

Coopersville picked up 15 first downs to Zeeland's five. The winner picked up 247 yards rushing and none passing. They threw two passes with one being intercepted. The Chix gained 94 yards on the ground and 54 through passing.

Norm Lamieux, Dave Stevens and Aldrich stood out for Coopersville with Floyd Raterink, Faber and Klampf looking good for Zeeland.

Most of the Coopersville yardage was made over right guard and tackle where Frank Boonstra and Bob Volink, Chix first stringers, were missing, because of injuries.

Zeeland has an open date next Friday and will return to action Oct. 15 against Hudsonville.

Accident Occurs On Veldheer Farm North of Holland

Low-Circling Craft Seen Saturday;
Runway Quickly Lighted

Four young Army men were killed Saturday when their rented, light plane crashed on the Lester Veldheer farm in Olive Township about 10 miles north of Holland.

The dead were identified as follows:

Harold Brooks, 21, of 481 First St., Manistee.
Norbert G. Bunkert, 22, of 14551 Whitcomb, Detroit.
Robert L. Brooks, 19, Hotel Chippewa, Manistee.
Sam Soutanian, 22, of 16844 Linwood, Detroit.

The plane is believed to have crashed shortly after several Holland persons reported hearing a low-circling plane shortly after 1:30 Saturday. City police and sheriff's officers rounded up 14 cars and had them go to Park Township airport to shine their lights on the runways. But when the motorcade reached the airport the plane had disappeared in the rainy atmosphere and thick overcast. Shortly afterwards, Airport Manager Jake Lieverse arrived and turned on all lights. Lights were kept on until after 3 a.m.

Persons who saw the plane said it circled the city about 10 times with its landing lights on.

The wreckage was spotted by Veldheer shortly after he put out his cows to pasture around 6:15 a.m. He made a quick trip to the wreckage (about a quarter mile from his home) and found all personnel dead. Then he went to the Jack Nisboer home 1 1/2 miles away to call Holland police. The call came in at 6:45.

Sheriff's officers reported to the scene immediately and found the four bodies in and near the twisted fuselage and other wreckage scattered over several acres. Officers said the plane first crashed on the Levi Bartels farm and presumably bounced along until hitting a drainage ditch separating the Bartels and Veldheer farms. The Bartels farm is on 120th Ave. about 1 1/4 miles north of Crisp, and the Veldheer farm fronts on a farm road a half mile west of 120th Ave. just beyond Tyler.

According to records found at the scene, the four-passenger Piper with tri-cycle landing gear was rented from Waynesville Travel Service, Waynesville, Mo., on Friday. Officers believe the four young men chartered the plane in order to have a weekend at home. All were from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Records indicated Soutanian was the pilot since his credentials included the necessary flying certification.

Harold Brooks' body was found about 15 feet from the plane. The bodies of Bunkert and Robert L. Brooks were near the plane, partly under, and Soutanian, the pilot, was trapped inside. All bodies were taken to Dykstra Funeral Home.

Officers notified state police, who in turn notified CAA officials.

Residents in the area said they heard no crash during the night but that there had been a lot of rain and some thunder and lightning.

The Brooks youths, both former Michigan high school athletes from the North Central Conference were not related.

Harold Brooks was the son of Orlo Brooks, a Manistee grocer. He was an end on the 1951 high school All-State team and played in the national high school All-American football game at Memphis, Tenn., in 1952.

Robert Brooks was the only son of Joseph Brooks, manager of the Chippewa Hotel. A prep football, basketball and track star, he was named to the All-Conference football team in 1952.

A spokesman from the Waynesville, Mo., flying service confirmed that the plane was "ours," but declined further comment. Mrs. Dave Lobmaster, describing herself as "acting manager," expressed shock when United Press informed her the plane had crashed. She said her husband, manager of the company, was in Milwaukee, and she would have to get in touch with him before making any comment.

FOUR YOUNG ARMY MEN of Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., lost their lives when this four-passenger Piper crashed Saturday on the Lester Veldheer farm in Olive township about 10 miles north of Holland. The men at right are Deputy Leonard Ver Schure, Lester Veldheer and Deputy Ken De Jonge. The four servicemen, two of Detroit and two of Manistee, presumably had rented the plane in Missouri to spend a week-end at home.

Let's Plant Beauty! Civic Center Plantings Symbolize City Beautiful

Our Civic Center is in the process of being clothed in its beautiful outer garment. It is fitting that this handsome functional building should become, through its exterior planting, a symbol of the idea which Holland has chosen to implant throughout the country of our horticultural interest and superiority.

Park Superintendent Dick Smallenburg is the designer. He feels it is a challenge to match the beauty of the building with the excellence and fitness of its planting.

It's fascinating to watch the pieces being fit together. But a good gardener wants, first of all, to know about the water supply and soil. The water for the sprinkling system will come from Lake Macatawa by connecting through a four-inch main to the pipe line which lies under 10th St. The 80 loads of muck top soil used around the building have been obtained for only the cost of hauling from highway grading operations for the US-31 by-pass.

Let's approach the main entrance of the building on the east. Hickory upright and spreading yews are appropriately used in planter boxes on each side of this formal entrance. Vines will soften the stone edges of the boxes and clumps of exhibition tulips will brighten them in May. The sunny south-east corner will be planted with good deciduous shrubs and ornamental trees. Already planted are Paul's scarlet Hawthorne and mountain ash. Dogwood will be used here too.

The northeast corner is most completely planted now. This northeast exposure demands and is ideal for broad leaved ever-important corner. There are a papyrus-like birch tree in the corner and two flowering crab apples for height. More than a dozen rhododendrons and azaleas re planted here, several peris japonica, white flowered clematis, and globe arbutus. Two loads of leaf mold and 18 bales of peat went into conditioning the soil for these acid loving, aristocratic shrubs to complement the building at its most important plants. Polygonum reynoutria and mums border this planting. Daffodils interspersed between the shrubbery will brighten this corner in the spring.

Along 8th St. are three specimen magnolia soulangeana. The planter boxes extending the length of the Exhibition Room windows and in front of the Green Room are treated like those on the east side, holding upright and spreading yews, and will also be planted with tulips. Groupings of evergreens and beds of Red Emperor tulips will break the building's long lines. Thinking ahead to the Christmases to come, Mr. Smallenburg will plant a blue spruce in the center of this space, to be seen from Exhibition Room.

Prunus sissima, crab apples, and a variety of good shrubs will make the north west corner attractive. Blue flowered plumbago and polygonum edge this planting.

Groupings of arbutus and a few specimen shade trees soften blank wall spaces at the rear and south of the building, and a hedge will fill the narrow space between the south wall and sidewalk. Next week we hope to tell you about plans for the perimeter planting of the block.

Dog Notes

13 Men To Walk One Dog

I've forgotten the dog's name, but he was a lively cocker spaniel that belonged to Ben Cook of Lake Worth, Florida. Cook was called to West Palm Beach as a salesman in a murder trial. Absent mandedly, he took his dog along with him in the car. The jury was selected and Cook was chosen as one of them.

This meant that Cook and the 11 other jurors would have to stay within the court's precinct throughout the trial. But what about Cook's dog that had shut up in his car outside the court house?

Cook appealed to the deputy sheriff in whose custody the jury had been placed. The deputy appealed to the jurors. Unanimously they agreed to do what they could for the dog's welfare. So, when they went to lunch and for a walk that noon, under the sheriff's guardianship, the door of the car was opened and the cocker spaniel strutted proudly forth with them.

Thirteen "good men and true" connived to give one small dog a noontime walk and a noontime meal. For two days they did so. Each time they went out the dog was taken with them. Then the sheriff telephoned Cook's home in Lake Worth for a member of the family to come to West Palm Beach to take home Cook's car—and the dog. Especially the dog.

Noisy Hunter Vs. Silent Hunters

You have seen a well-traffed bird dog at work in the hunting field, haven't you? If not, you have missed one of the most beautiful and inspiring sights of dogdom. He "quarters" or circles until he comes within a certain distance of some covering bird or covey. There he halts, "pointing" his hind and waiting for his master to come up and to command him to move forward inch by inch until the prey is "flushed"; then await the order to retrieve. Thorough, he makes no sound at all.

On the other hand, let any variety of hound get within scenting distance of his prey, and he wakes the echoes with a continuous baying.

I think I have the answer as to why the bird dog hunts in silence, while the hound is so noisy, though I may be wrong. The hound is following his world-old instincts of notifying the wild-dog pack that he has found living food and he is calling on them to help him run it down. The bird dog, on the contrary, has learned for centuries to realize he is hunting for his master's profit; not for his own. He has been trained to follow certain fixed rules which have been taught him. Thus, he hunts in silence and with careful caution.

The Question Box
Question: I have been told that a harness is harmful to a dog, and that it is better for him to wear a collar. Which of these do you prefer? —L. M.

Answer: A harness that fits a grown dog is not harmful, but I don't believe in making a growing puppy wear one as he outgrows it and an ill-fitting harness can be harmful to a young puppy.

NEW NATIONAL POSTER GIRL for the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc. is Bonnie Jean Bazan, four-year-old Bonnie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Gordon Bazan of Ottawa Beach and Grand Rapids. Bonnie will travel all over the country this year in connection with the fund raising campaign of the MDA.

All America Will Glimpse Local Dystrophy Victim

A little blonde four-year-old girl from Ottawa Beach and Grand Rapids is known all over the United States today. Her name is Bonnie Jean Bazan, and she has been chosen National Poster Girl by the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Gordon Bazan.

Bonnie, who has had muscular dystrophy all her life, was picked from 150 other children suffering from the disease. Her picture will be on the poster to be used in the year-long fund raising campaign by the association.

Bonnie's picture was sent in by the Kent County chapter of the MDA in July, and in August, she was flown secretly to New York when notified that the final choice had been made.

While in New York, she and her mother made a 10-minute movie to be shown at theaters all over the country during the campaign. Bonnie also had more than 200 pictures taken for publicity purposes, made two radio recordings and three TV shorts.

The movie, taken in a home on Long Island, took four hours to make, and Bonnie got so tired that she started making faces at the cameramen. "That's when we knew it was time for a rest," Mrs. Bazan said.

There are 200,000 people in the United States suffering from the disease, and 65,000 of them are children.

In muscular dystrophy, the death rate is 99 percent. Death is usually caused by simple ailments that lead to complications.

When Bonnie was 12 months old, it was noticed that she could not sit up. At 18 months, her case was diagnosed as muscular dystrophy.

UNIFORMS FOR BODIES
AND MINDS

A correspondent to The Sentinel's
"As We Live" column voices the lament that when he exchanged his uniform for "civies" at the close of his stretch in the army he developed a sense of inferiority.

He writes: "I had been an officer and when wearing my uniform I commanded a certain respect and authority. In civilian clothes I was just another man — like everyone else on the street. It made me feel that I had nothing of importance to offer and I almost developed an inferiority complex."

This ex-soldier put his finger on something that has far wider application than that of military life.
For a great many besides soldiers wear uniforms. The word "uniform" merely means "having one shape or form or style or make."
Vast numbers of people in so-called civilian life wear uniforms. The cap and gown of the college professor is one example. And the very fact that the "business suit" is known as such suggests that it has the characteristic of uniformity to a sufficient degree to be recognized as a stereotype in occupational dress.

Like the ex-soldier who appealed to the "As We Live" column,
many, many civilians get a sense of personal importance from their "uniforms." All you need to do to test this is watch a group of college professors or graduating seniors in an academic procession.
Most of them obviously win a sense of personal worth from the "uniform" they wear that clearly boosts their morale.

All this is harmless, and perhaps even highly desirable, in both soldiers, and civilians. At any rate, in the case of the soldiers, military discipline would not be good without uniforms. But when large masses of human minds get themselves dressed up in uniforms it becomes quite another matter.

The glory of human beings is that they are different. History honors the men and women who have individuality, that is men and women who are different from the mentally uniformed mass. There is a constant drive to beat human minds into uniformity, and only those who have real personality
have the strength to stand out against this.

Uniforms for bodies may be desirable, to a limited degree. But anyone who allows his mind to be dressed up in a uniform is to that extent denying his own personality.
No one is wise enough to put uniforms on human minds. Even Uncle Sam is not wise enough to do that with the minds of his fighting men.

God's Answer to Job's Perplexity

Job 38:1-7; 42:1-10

By Henry Geerlings

The drama of Job is complex,

with the state of Job given prominence. His three friends argued and made speeches. Job replied with remarkable skill. A fourth

speaker, Elihu, a younger man,

came forth with a defense of God.

This was followed by God's direct words to Job out of the whirlwind. Twice God addressed Job

in this manner, and the drama

closes with a reply of Job to God,

in which he shows his repentance and makes his confession. As an ending for the story of Job there is a picture of his restoration to the favor of God and his exceptional prosperity.

In reviewing, the life of Job as portrayed in this drama, we come to certain truths worthy of consideration. These may be stated as questions or as themes for discussion.

How are our attitudes affected

by physical environment and experience? The secret of keeping the faith when all goes wrong? What is the value of friendly companions when we are in trouble? The element of self defense, or vindication, in misfortune. Does God interpose helpful agencies? The value to us of what God reveals. Are our privileges of knowledge from God becoming more and better?

It would be well to review the experiences of Job. We are to remember the Oriental setting, and that the argument and discussion

grew out of the common teaching of the times. Job's search for knowledge, his quest for certainty, and his skill in using what he knew stand forth. Now we come to the response of God to Job, a revelation that expressed the fallacy of most of their arguments but gave Job a confidence in God that provided him a new outlook on life.

Job confessed his errors. He had thought it was right to contend with God and question His righteousness. He learned how wrong both attitudes are. He felt himself condemned, yet he was still trusting God.

His confession showed an uplift of soul toward God. He was ready to emphasize the truth that worthwhile knowledge had come to him from God.

Job had found satisfaction in spite of all he had endured, and the worries that had troubled him.
His thoughts were quieted, and his life was in subjection to God.

God turned from defending Job to exposing his friends. They were denounced for not speaking what was right about God as Job had done. They had tried to argue Job out of his true belief. Had he yielded to them he would have lost his faith, and failed to discover the certainty and comfort
which God made possible for him.
But God treated them graciously,
thinking of them as wrong without malice, and possessing a spirit of honesty and reverence.

God had a promise for them, a way for their forgiveness. They were to offer sacrifice, and Job would pray for them. God would respect Job's prayer and not deal with them according to all their wrongs deserved. They took the suggestion seriously and acted on the order, obeying it fully. So their accusation was turned into a way that offered them justification.

This particular knowledge came to them from God. It was different from anything that they had learned from their own religion. It is clear that they repented of their errors in trying to comfort Job, with words that had no comfort in them.

Faithfulness has its rewards.
We could not love and serve and trust God if he failed to respect, honor and reward those maintaining faithfulness. Job was not working for a reward. He did not maintain his faith in order to have a larger prosperity than he had before his afflictions. He kept his faith because that was his desire, his conviction, his purpose. Through all these dreadful afflictions God had brought him, and Job came into the clear, sure that he knew God, and possessed a broad, deep uplifting knowledge that God had made known to him.

The place of prayer in Job's life
to prosperity deserves attention.
Even for these friends who had done so little for him and who had been accused by God, Job prayed. That was a test of his character, a mark of his strength.
His affliction went and prosperity came in its place. This was prosperity far greater than he could have asked. It was measured in material and family terms. His greatness was again recognized, his true friends increased, and the joy of his later years was calm and quieting. The material blessings that multiplied for him were counted and their value estimated.

35 Methodist Women
Spend Day in Chicago

About 35 members of the Woman's Society for Christian Service of First Methodist Church

chartered a bus for a trip to Chicago last Thursday.

The day was spent visiting

Marcy Center and Chicago

Marcy Center is a project of the woman's division of Chris-

Church. Its purpose is to provide a Christian community center which works cooperatively with the community, churches, religious and social welfare agencies.

Chicago Methodist Temple, located in the downtown loop, is the world's tallest and Chicago's oldest church. The "sky personage" and "sky chapel" are located in its tower 330 and 400 feet above the street.

WHEN A TORNADO HITS, it leaves destruction like this in its path. This is what's left of the barn on the Bernard Schreier farm a half mile east of Drenthe which was hit by a tornado during Sunday night's severe rain and electrical storm. Two-thirds of the roof was ripped off, sailing over the house and landing a quarter mile away. Some rafters hit the ground with such force they were as firmly embedded as fence posts. Soaked hay and straw posed a fire threat Monday and Tuesday, and work crews removed most of the spoiled supply to prevent outbreaks. The tornado also hit four other farms at Drenthe, but the Bernard Schreier farm had the most damage.

Todd Farm Has
New Goose Decoys

ALLEGAN Mich. (Special) —

A relatively small number of hunters at the Todd Farm game refuge had a chance to use goose decoys for the first time during the weekend, but generally poor hunting conditions made it difficult to judge the results.

Twenty-four blinds were constructed on the east side of the refuge in the area formerly designated as zones 8 through 11 and now known as zone 8. The blinds were lettered from A to Z
with Q and I omitted and permit seekers were given the right to use them on a first come, first served basis.

The blinds accommodate two to four hunters and they must remain within the blinds. No other hunters will be allowed in this zone.

At the Swan Creek area
hunters were out in force during the weekend but the few native
geese on hand were generally too smart for the nimrods and few kills were reported.

New maps showing zones and access roads have been issued for the "high banks" with a fifth zone designated as "Zone Zero."

3 Local Scouters
Will Get Training

8, 9 and 10 will be attended by 300 other volunteer Scout leaders.

Benjamin Mulder, Chippewa
District committee member; Albert A. Walters, scoutmaster of Troop 7, Third Reformed Church;
and Richard Wilson, district scout executive, will represent the local scout organizations at the meeting.

A team of highly trained men
from the National Scout Headquarters and the regional office in Chicago will conduct the clinics. The course will provide actual practice in training
methods in the areas of Cub Scouting, Exploring, and Commissioner Service.

The local group will leave Holland Friday afternoon and join a

Rapids.

Cancer Lecture
Begins Series

The Community Lecture Series
began Monday evening in Washington School auditorium with an interesting lecture-discussion led by Dr. Charles Bazuin, M.D., of Holland.

Dr. Bazuin, graduate of Holland Christian High School, Calvin College and University of Michigan Medical School, delivered a talk on "The Seven Danger Signals of Cancer."

He warned that there are many difficulties which may arise out of any or all of these danger signals, but that a person noticing
any one of them should seek medical aid immediately. He cites instances in his own experience in which early recognition of cancer resulted in successful treatment and cure.

Dr. Bazuin's lecture was followed by a question period which clarified many problems held by the audience. The question of cancer and heredity was discussed as well as the inevitable question of cancer and smoking.

Announcement of next week's program was made by George Lumsden, director of Adult Education, Monday evening, Oct. 11.
Dr. W. Rottschaefer will speak on "Stomach Ache and the Child."

These lectures are free of charge and made available as a public service by the local medical association and the Holland Public Schools. All meetings are held on Monday evening and all programs
begin at 7:30 at Washington School corner of 11th St. and

Work Crews Busy Clearing Damage On Drenthe Farms

Work crews were busy Tuesday in the Drenthe area cleaning up damage on four farms a half mile east of the village that were hit by a small tornado during Sunday night's fierce electrical storm.

Most damage resulted on the Bernard Schreier farm where two-thirds of the barn roof was torn off and carried over the house into the fields with some pieces scattered a quarter mile away. Tops of some trees were torn off by the barn roof. A tool shed was demolished but there was little or no damage to equipment. The roof also was torn off the cow stable where cows stood knee deep in flood water in a hall storm. Some cows escaped to the manure shed and all weathered the storm quite well.

With huge supplies of hay and straw hopelessly soaked, farmers feared for fire, and planned Tuesday to remove the stores from the barn, rain or shine. Large rafters fell near Schreier's parked car during the twister but the car was not damaged.

Hay and straw also was a complete loss at the Ben Schreier farm where a third of the barn roof was blown off. A jagged chunk of Elmer Bos' barn also blew off resulting in considerable damage. The same thing occurred at the John Schra farm. Stores of grain in granaries also were soaked, but farmers were hopeful these supplies might be taken to an elevator to be dried.

Many trees were uprooted in the vicinity, knocking out power and telephone service. Several windows also were blown out in homes, and in some cases 21 inches of water flooded living quarters. Hallstones were described as "the size of an egg."

West of the village, the Nick Brower house was damaged when a tree fell onto the house, caving in a section of the roof.

No personal injuries resulted from the twister which hit about 6:45 p.m.

The Woman's Study Club opened its activities for the 1954-55 season with a 25th anniversary meeting held at the Boy Scout Cabin last week. Special guests were past members, prospective members and local friends. Mrs. C. Hansen, president, was in charge and also presented a program skit on "This is Your Life," receiving past events of the club, its purpose of organization and highlights of its activities. Mrs. George Schutmaat, now of Holland, was the originator and first president of the club and was duly honored. Reminiscences by past and present members added to the interest of the program, as did special honors to past presidents. Three former members, Mrs. Harvin Kaper, Mrs. Floyd Kaper and Mrs. H. W. Tempas, sang "Grannie's Mins" from "The Firefly" accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Heuvelman. The year books were presented by the chairman of the program committee, who was assisted in arrangement by Mrs. Heuvelman and Mrs. Harvey Koop. A three-tiered anniversary cake decorated the buffet luncheon table and was cut by Mrs. Schutmaat with Mrs. Hansen presiding at the coffee urn. Fall leaves and flowers decorated the cabin. Social hostesses were the Executive Board members, Mrs. Hansen, Mrs. Strabbing, Mrs. Don Stehwer, Mrs. Heuvelman, Mrs. Earl Kennedy and Mrs. Henry Funckes. Club meetings will continue the second and fourth Tuesday of each month until the end of May.

The Hamilton School district has secured some added land in the back yard of the school grounds by the closing of an unused road by court order and it is being prepared for playground purposes.

The Hamilton Boy Scout Troop 33 is announcing a paper and magazine drive for Oct. 14 and local folks are given the privilege to rid their storing places of the accumulation for aiding a troop that has been active for several years in this locality, under direction of Jesse Kool, the Scoutmaster. Registration shows a list of 20 members with five tentative applicants within a short time.

Mrs. Wayne Dykhuys, the former Susy Kempfers, was honored at a post-nuptial bridal shower at the home of Joan Tanis, sponsored by her Sunday School class.

The third letterman guard is junior Jack Kring, 5'9", 170 pounds. Jack Carleton, second team All-MIAA center choice last year, is listed at the same post. He is 5'11", and 195 pounds.

Running opposite Hill at left half is Mary Raab, 5'11", 175 pound junior. He was named to the All-MIAA second team last year. Raab was a target for three touchdowns passes in the Anderson game, thrown by first string quarterback Denny Stolz. A senior, Stolz is 5'10", 165 pounds. Joe Coe, sophomore letterman, is the No. 3 Alma halfback. He stands 6', and weighs 165.

The teams will be almost identical in starting weights. The Alma line and Hope line both average 199, while the Alma backfield will come in at 169. Hope's starting backs will weigh 179. The Alma starting team average will be 188 while Hope will average 191.

GOP Precinct Day Scheduled Friday

C. C. Andreasen, chairman of the Ottawa County Republican committee, announced today that local party and precinct leaders, together with affiliated organizations, will celebrate Republican National Precinct Day Friday.

Preliminary reports, chairman Andreasen said, indicate widespread enthusiasm throughout the county for a celebration honoring the precinct worker, the backbone of the Republican party. The day-long celebrations will be climaxed that night by a nation-wide radio-TV address to all precinct workers by President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon.

Republican candidates are endorsing plans for the celebration, and wherever possible, will travel around to the various precinct gatherings to meet as many workers as time permits. Andreasen said two types of meetings will be featured. One is recruiting powwows to be held in homes and other meeting places at various times. Party caucuses will be held in the evening to assign specific tasks to workers recruited during the day and hear or see the Eisenhower-Nixon speeches. During these meetings plans for the final month of the campaign will be approved. Holland's meeting will be held in the Centennial Room of the Warm Friend Tavern.

Electric, Water Departments List Record Revenues

Water Profits Waived To Provide Sufficient Revenue for Bonds

Revenues set new records in both electric and water departments for the year ending June 30, 1954, according to the 60th annual report of the Board of Public Works which was submitted to City Council Wednesday night.

Net income in the electric department for the year totaled $248,758.76, an increase of $15,833.92 over last year's net income of $233,724.84. According to city charter, half of the net income is turned over to the general fund of the city.

Net income in the water department totaled $79,723.08 or $6,785.01 more than last year's total of $72,938.07. According to city charter, one-half of this income also is turned over to the city's general fund, but Council waived payment of water profits this year to provide sufficient funds as required by the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission to permit early sale of revenue bonds and to expedite general progress of the water works improvement program.

Since the city's share of electric profits exceeds the $120,000 BPW budget entry in the city budget, the waiving of water profits will not affect the city's financial situation.

An accompanying letter signed by Randall C. Bosch, president, listed record revenues of $1,214,653.50 for electricity and $168,194.09 for water, which is $153,516.22 more than for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1953, for the two departments.

"Despite the continuance of extraordinary maintenance throughout the year, increased depreciation charges and higher operating costs, the electric net income is $23,397.31 more than the previous year. The total net income for electricity and water exceeds that of the previous fiscal year by $37,887.32," the letter read.

Some of the major maintenance items completed during the year follow: rebuilt stoker, renewed top half of stack, and replaced housing on induced fan on each of the Edgemore boilers in the James De Young station; cleaned and repaired motors and other electrical equipment in the Fifth St. station; replaced pumps in No. 3 and 5 water supply wells; rebuilt sludge beds, including new sand and under-drainage tile at the Sewage Treatment plant.

The letter also pointed to progress on the water supply program with the decision to proceed with plans to supply the city with water from Lake Michigan.

The letter concluded: "The results and accomplishments of the 1953-54 fiscal year were made possible through the splendid cooperation of Council and the conscientious work and loyalty of Board employees. We take this opportunity to express our thanks and appreciation for the continued cooperation of the Council and our employees in the activities of the Board."

The annual report also included detailed figures on the sewage department, the fire alarm system and the compensation insurance fund.

BPW members are Bosch, president; Nelson Bosman, vice president; James H. Klomparens, Adrian Klaasen and Henry S. Maentz.

Local Officers Aid in Capture Of Assailant

Four Men Jailed After Three Separate Chases By Sheriff's Officers

Four men were being held in jail today, either by sentence or for continued investigation, as the result of three separate chases late Saturday night and early Sunday morning in Holland area.

The most dramatic capture early Sunday morning involved squad cars of sheriff's departments of Holland, Zeeland, Hudsonville, Grandville, Wyoming Park and state police, all concentrating on 53-year-old Walter Williams, no address listed, who earlier that night had slit the throat of a man in a Western Michigan town believed to be Gobles. The victim was said to be in critical condition Monday.

The chase developed out of Grand Rapids with a single man in a cruiser following Williams who was driving a car with an Illinois license. Zeeland officers and other cruisers picked up on the chase on the divided highway between Hudsonville and Zeeland.

Deputies Ken De Jonge and Russ Bremer, answering the Holland alert at 12:15 a.m., received minute instructions by radio on developments. They deliberately stayed on the narrow highway just west of the divided highway near Vriesland and with red lights flashing crossed the centerline and forced Williams to stop. De Jonge quickly frisked the man as he got out of his car, but found no weapons. Within seconds, five other cruisers were on the scene and the handcuffed Williams was turned over to state police.

As the two local deputies took off from the police station, they halted momentarily on Eighth St., to order a youthful driver to report to police headquarters on a charge of failure to yield the right of way to an emergency vehicle. Officers had warned motorists on that matter last week in a Sentinel story.

Later Sunday morning, about 2:30 a.m. sheriff's officers surprised three cars in a "lovers lane" north of the city and took chase after one which headed west on Lakewood Blvd. Ignoring the red signal at 136th and north on 136th at high speeds to Riley and west into park Township.

The driver lost control at the end of the blacktop road, hit the gravel and went into the woods, snapping off three small trees while going 75 to 100 feet into the woods. The driver and his companion disappeared, and officers after a search rounded up John Reyes, Jr., 20, of 3451 West 15th St., and his companion, Julian Gaitan, 17, of 63 West First St.

Reyes appeared in Justice C.C. Wood's court Monday on charges of reckless driving and resisting arrest, and was fined $75 and given 10 days in the county jail. Gaitan, who is currently out on $1,000 bond on a statutory rape charge, was not charged.

Officers said Reyes previously had escaped officers in chases on three occasions and had bragged about it. The late model car he was driving was considerably damaged.

About 11 p.m. sheriff's officers, aided by Zeeland officers, picked up two Grand Rapids youths on suspicion after spotting them cruising in Holland without lights. This chase led to Zeeland where by means of a roadblock.

After extensive questioning Saturday and Sunday including a lie detector test, James Van Poortflit 19, and Norman Tyler, 19, admitted taking 10 batteries from Kamminga's junk yard near Zeeland and siphoning gasoline from a parked truck in the Holland Co-op lot. They also admitted taking 10 batteries and three radiators from four auto parts lots in Grand Rapids the previous 10 day.

The two were arraigned in Justice Wood's court Monday on simple larceny charges and were sentenced to serve 10 days in the county jail. They also are held for Grand Rapids officers.
